Following a record quarter of loan issuance volume in Europe, Flender closed on €50 mm in financing from a leading alternative investment management company

(FT @TASE) CEO of Finance Technologies Group: "The past year has been a record year for Finance in Europe and Israel, in which the loan issuance volume has increased significantly across all channels of activity. This transaction will accelerate the expansion of (FT @TASE) European operations. Additionally, having a leading investment management company as a financial partner reflects a high level of confidence in Finance's operations in Europe"

Finance Technologies (FT @TASE) announced the signing of a €50 mm facility agreement from an independent alternative investment management company. This 5.5 years facility agreement will be used for accelerating the company's growth in its European operating countries: Lithuania, Latvia, and Poland, focusing on consumer credit lending such as car loans, BNPL (Buy Now Pay later), and all-purpose loans.

@TASE's activity achieved significant growth in both Israel and Europe. Over the last year, @TASE set up a JV with Bank Hapoalim, one of the biggest banks in Israel, for BNPL (Buy now Pay Later) activity of large purchases. In Europe, Fintech expanded its operations into Poland, in addition to its existing activity in Lithuania and Latvia. Furthermore, @TASE is in the process of becoming a Pan-European Fintech Bank for which has completed the acquisition of LTL, a credit union, allowing @TASE to triple its credit portfolio and expedite the process of obtaining a pan-European banking license.

@TASE recently announced its financial results for 2021 and for the first quarter of 2022. Gross (non-GAAP) sales CAGR from 2018 to 2021 surpassed 50%. In Europe, during the last quarter, credit portfolio increased 4.2 times and loan issuance volume increased 4.1 times, compared to the corresponding quarter last year. As of March 31, 2022, the company has financed approximately $300 MM of consumer loans.
